VOLUME 1.

DOTHAN ALABAMA, THURSDAY EVENING, JUNE 10TH, 1909.

NUMBER 218

PICNICERS OFF TO PANAMA CITY

It was good to look at the crowd who lined up at the depot this morning to go to Panama City as members of the Methodist Sunday School. It was also good to be on the streets, and watch the people as they merrily marched to the train at five o'clock, the time most of them are getting in their beauty sleep. One had no idea there were so many people in Dothan who could get up at four, four-thirty and five o'clock. People who walk leisurely down to their work every morning just before eight, looking sleepy, feeling bad, came tripping down at the early hour this morning, looking wide-awake, and chipper. It shows they can do it, alright, when necessity forces them to it. Out of the 488 tickets sold for this trip, there was less than half dozen who came too late, late enough to hear the train as it blew for Main street crossing. They felt bad, but not badly. They turned about and took the regular morning train. Out of that crowd, one can imagine what the bay country looks like today.

In the early morning hour, say four-thirty, the weather looked like the picnickers would all get sprinkled, but later, it cleared up, and it is likely that emersion in the bay was the form used for the day, if any.

It will have been a great day's outing, if the crowd all get back without an accident.

SONS OF VETS CHOOSE OWEN

Memphis, Tenn., June 9.—The Sons of United Confederate Veterans tonight before adjourning elected Clarence J. Owen, of Abbeville, Ala., commander in chief, and by an overwhelming vote rejected the resolution to change the name of the organization.

Because the initials of the association when worn on the uniform were "U. S. C. V.," some of the members believed that those not acquainted with their title might believe that the "U. S." meant United States.

To do away with the idea that "United States" was part of the title some of the members urged a change in the name. The majority however, were opposed to it and their wish prevailed.

The other officers elected were: Clinton M. Felton, Blackburn, N. C., commander department of Northern Virginia; J. P. Norfleet, Memphis, commander Army of the Tennessee; J. Reid, Dallas, Texas, re-elected commander of the department of the Trans-Mississippi; Executive Council, Thomas Shindault, Holly Springs, Miss.; W. W. Olds, Norfolk, Va.; E. M. Scudder, Vicksburg, Miss.; Fontaine W. Mayhoad, Washington, D. C.; Historian General, Thomas M. Owen, Montgomery, Ala.

TWO ARE HELD ON CHARGES OF MURDER

Guntersville, June 9.—James Lindsey, an aged blacksmith, and his son-in-law, James Brock, were arrested yesterday on a charge of murder committed ten years ago at Carnesville, Ga.

It is alleged that Lindsey's real name is Beech Hill, and Brock's name is James Turner. Lindsey, it is stated, admits but Brock disclaims the charge. They are both married and have families.

The papers from Carnesville for these men have been in the hands of the sheriff of this county for nearly a year, but nothing was known of Hill or Turner until a few days ago, when it was reported that, because of some trouble in Georgia, both men had changed their names.

All the big dailies we get have been printing pictures of Gen. Clement A. Evans. No two have used the same picture, and if the General has no cause for a suit for damage, we fail to see what would make such a suit possible. The papers have been keeping those cuts in the cut box for years and pull them out whenever a reunion of the old soldiers is held. They should all get together and adopt a certain picture and call it the general.

The Woodmen of the World are planning a big picnic at Panama City for the 7th and 8th of July. They will make it a two days frolic and about twenty camps will participate. Complete plans have not yet been arranged but there will probably be some of the high officers of the order present to deliver addresses.

If any one at Panama City has any new ground that they wish cleared up there will be enough Woodmen there to do the job in true George Washington style.

OLIVER OPERATED IN BIRMINGHAM

L. Charles Harding, alias Oliver who made the natives of Bainbridge "take notice" once pulled off a squeeze in Birmingham.

January 1, 1906 he organized the Alabama Lumber, Coal and Timber Co., of Birmingham. A number of Birmingham people, among whom was Mr. C. W. Long now of Dothan, went into the deal. Mr. Long took $1,700 in stock. Before long things began to look crooked and in April Mr. Long sold out his stock to Harding or Oliver, or made a settlement, signing a release and receipt in full, realizing just $75 for his $1,700 that he put in. Mr. Long showed us this receipt today just before leaving for Bainbridge where he went to see what the chance was to get something more out of his "investment."

Our new machine arrived today and is now in use. It is absolutely flickerless and the picture will not hurt your eyes. The Electric Theatre.

ABOUT PRINTING THE MINUTES.

One can look through the list of accounts paid by the County commissioners, and see the number of warrants drawn for "work on bridges," and "pauper support," and then wonder why they should have poured a gourd of cold water on the proposition of fighting the clock. It was opposed by some for the reason, they thought, that it was not giving light for the taxpayers who were fortunate enough to be out of sight of the court house dome. They took the wrong view of it, we think, for the court house belongs to the county—not to Dothan, and while the lighting of it benefits Dothan citizens most, it is because they live here. The same argument could be used about the clock, the same argument about the location of the court house, as to that, and that question was settled long ago. Then to be selfish, this beat pays over half of the county's taxes. It is but natural then, for this paper to expect the commissioners to take a broad enough view of the matter to light up the clock, that it might serve the purpose for which it was bought. As to the pauper support, and the money spent on bridges, we are sure that the commissioners feel that they are worthy causes, or they

S. D. Dow, who has charge of Dairy Farming Investigation in Alabama, stationed at Auburn has been in the city a day or two and talks interestingly on the dairy business and urges the importance of cleanliness in handling the milk. During the course of his remarks he said: "The importance of a pure milk supply cannot be estimated in dollars and cents to any city. The cities in Alabama are making real strides in the regulation of its milk supply. There has been a lot of cleanliness of milk and the temperature at which it is delivered to the consumer. Montgomery and Birmingham have stringent laws regulating the sale of milk and both cities have introduced the United States Department of Agriculture Dairy Division's score card in the inspection work as a basis of regulating the handling of cows, the care and cleanliness of stable and milking. The past two months, the cattle supplying Montgomery with milk have been tuberculosis tested, and about 89 of the cows in the dairies were found to be contaminated with tuberculosis.

"The greatest menace to the city milk supply is a dirty barn where dust accumulates and where the attendants are moving about milking, dust and dirt easily blows into the buckets. The mall top milk pail is very strong urged by inspectors in the city milk supply for the use of this pail he chances for contamination from outside sources while milking is cut down materially.

"The people of Alabama are looking for the good of their children and have taken these things into consideration and much of the sickness heretofore prevalent in infants during the summer months have been prevented. It is surprising to note the strictly sanitary barns that have been built and are now being built this year in Alabama. I suppose a number of people from Dothan called to see the J. R. Hall and Son's barn on the Headland road, duplicates of which are being built, at Troy, Prattville, Clayton, Montgomery and Birmingham. This work is to be commended and shows the spirit manifested in our own welfare."

Mr. Dow has been to Dothan several times before. He left on the afternoon train for Montgomery.
